WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS SAY.

The Real Animus of the Fight of Clement Against Proctor.
(From the Wilmington Times.)
Let us get down to the true inwardness of the attempt of Percival W. Clement and a little group of his personal followers to capture the Vermont State government. What is it that really is at the bottom of the movement to split the Republican party, install a hybrid administration, and so remove Vermont from the ranks of the safely Republican States?
At the outset it is well enough to eliminate the followers of Clement from the discussion, because the incentive in their case is plain enough. They want official jobs, and want them for the sake of the salaries, pretty generally. Any rich man who aspires to political preferment can always command the services of retainers of a certain class. Clement's immediate lieutenants are all this element.

Actually there is no great difference between the programmes of the various parties—nothing, that is, of a large and vital import, sufficient to divide public opinion into warring camps. In truth, Clement is without a great issue.
Stripped of political or ethical reason for its existence, what is the real animus of the Clement endeavor?
Simply the desire of a natural insurgent to accomplish the overthrow of a regular party organization and its candidates for reasons quite apart from considerations of public policy.
These reasons are two: An inherited feud of the house of Clement against the house of Proctor, and the ambition of Percival W. Clement to become a senator of the United States.
There you have, in a sentence, the explanation of the Clement enterprise which appears before the people masquerading as a "political revolution in behalf of popular emancipation from ring rule," and which has succeeded in forcing upon the Democratic party an alliance which that party is destined to heartily regret and of which it is already far from proud.

A Trip to Western New York State.
Mr. Battell returned last evening from a trip of five days to Central New York, where he went to look up the pedigrees of a number of very important horses that were bred in that section. His first stop was at Utica, from which point, hiring liveries, he drove to a number of towns and villages in Oneida county in which the very noted family of Kentucky Hunters originated, one of which—One-Eyed Kentucky Hunter—has been, by many thought to have been the sire of Flora Temple, the first mare to trot under 2:30 and one of the most famous of all trotters. The original Kentucky Hunter is also credited with being the sire of Oneida Chief, one of the most famous of all the early pacers.
Another known as Young Bay Kentucky Hunter, was a sister of the stallion Edwin Forrest, purchased in the fifties by the Alexanders of Kentucky and kept at their farm, the most famous of all American breeding farms for horses, where afterwards Maud S., and many others of the fastest trotters were bred.
This stallion, Edwin Forrest, enters into the pedigrees of a large number of very prominent American horses, including some trotters and more perhaps noted for their magnificent form and general excellent qualities. The original Kentucky Hunter was bred by J. and L. Sherrill, of New Hartford, Oneida County, New York, got by Watkins' Highlander, a son of Brown Highlander, a thoroughbred horse that was imported from Litchfield, Eng., to Litchfield, Conn., in 1797, by several citizens of the latter town. This Sherrill's Kentucky Hunter, foaled in 1823, passed to Wm. Ferguson, of Oriskany Falls, Oneida County, New York, who raised from him several stallions.
Mr. Battell was especially fortunate in making the acquaintance of a number of Mr. Ferguson's family who had an old poster, published sixty years ago by William Ferguson, giving the breeding and history of all the earliest stallions of this family. Mr. Battell purchased this and it will appear in facsimile in his new work, "American Stallion Register." This poster shows that Young Bay Kentucky Hunter, the sire of Edwin Forrest, was owned by Mr. Ferguson, foaled in 1839 and got by a horse of the same name (Bay Kentucky Hunter), that was foaled in 1836 and poisoned when two years old. The poster states that the dam of Young Bay Kentucky Hunter was owned by Charles C. Payne of Hamilton, Madison County, and got by the old Bay Duroc, son of Duroc, from an English mare. It also states that the dam of the colt that was poisoned was a full-blooded Bogus mare—Bogus being an imported horse that was presented to General Burgoyne and captured from him at the battle of Saratoga.

The further discoveries made by Mr. Battell in this trip, some of which are very remarkable, will be given in the next issue of the Register.

Training for the Farm.

In his address to the students at Hampton Institute President Roosevelt said:
If there one thing I would like especially to impress upon you, it is to advise you to take up work on the farms with the intention of owning them, taking up agricultural work. In doing that you will be doing only what the best, the most intelligent and most advanced white people are more and more growing to do. The growth of agricultural colleges and their development has been one of the significant features of education for the white race in almost all of the states of this union, because more and more have people grown to realize that the child of the farmer must be developed scientifically, his abilities be given full play as they can be given only through the aid of education and science. So that, on the one hand the profession itself shall become more and more attractive to men of brains and intelligence, and so that, on the other hand, it shall be recognized more and more as being the one profession, the failure to develop which in this country would mean that the development of all the rest of the professions would count for but little.

Weather Tips for Farmers.

By an arrangement made between Postmaster-General Cortelyou and Secretary Wilson, the farmers of the country, who desire to receive them, will hereafter be furnished daily with weather forecasts. The forecasts will be telegraphed to the postmasters by the weather bureau, stamped upon penalty cards, and distributed by the rural letter carriers to patrons on their routes.

Senator Proctor's Gift.

At a meeting of the trustees of the state tuberculosis sanatorium held Thursday, the gift of Senator Redfield Proctor was discussed and it was decided to begin work on the foundations at Pittsford, within two weeks, although the contract for the construction of the building has not been let.

Band Concert.

The next band concert in the park will be given Wednesday evening, August 8. The following will be the program:
March—"With Flying Colors," Cruger
Overture—"Harry Von Tulger's 'Comin' Thro' the Rye,'" Arr. by Smith
Characteristic—"A Southern Belle," Eugene

Republican Campaign Button.

The republican state committee has decided on the official button which will be worn during the campaign. It is a flag on a white button with the word "Republican" in gold letters on border of the button. They are now being distributed.

Republican Gathering.

Hon. Fletcher D. Proctor will meet the Republican town committees of Addison County on Saturday afternoon, August 4th, at two o'clock in Middlebury Town Hall.
It is hoped every member of the various town committees will be present.

BURNED BY LIGHTNING.

Barn and Produce Consumed and Two Cows Killed.
The most severe electric storm which has come to us in years, if ever before, visited our town and especially our village on Saturday afternoon of last week. It was a continuous flash of lightning with deafening reports accompanied with heavy downfall of rain. Several trees were struck, one in Martin Young's yard, 30 feet from his barn. The old "May" barn, owned by E. H. Fiske, with its contents and the new horse barn owned by Clyde Fiske, standing near the old one, were struck and burned with all the hay and produce in them. Clyde Fiske and his son, Watson Whitman, were in the stable below milking. Both were thrown down and Mr. Whitman rendered partially unconscious. Two cows of the twelve in the stable were killed. Mr. Fiske was able to remove all of his wagons, harnesses and tools. The horses, four in number, including a valuable stallion, were gotten out in safety. The property was fairly well insured in the Vermont Mutual. They will rebuild at once.

Off for State Prison.

Sheriff Olin A. Smith and Deputy Sheriff F. C. Dyer, took the prisoners convicted at the late county court to the Windsor State prison last Saturday to serve as per sentences, as follows: Zephyr Trombley, convicted of horse stealing, who will serve not less than eight years and ten months or more than nine years. His brother, Nelson Trombley, who will serve a term of not less than two or more than three years, for bigamy, and Henry G. Mullings, who has to serve a term of not less than three or more than three and a half years at hard labor on a charge of forgery.

WHITING.

The state highway tax of the town of Whiting for 1906 was $104.70. Her apportionment by the state was $143.40. Her gain under the present system of taxation was $38.70. Mr. Clement's democratic platform would deprive Whiting of this material gain. Will the voters of Whiting stand for it?

Patrons of San Francisco hotels, who fled from the city after the earthquake are sending checks to hotel proprietors to pay their indebtedness, showing that the American conscience is not a myth.

INTERESTING CONFERENCE

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

Celebrating the Organization of a Popular Sunday School Work.

Silver Bay, N. Y., Conferences, July 20 to 29, 1906.

The Young People's Missionary movement has just passed its fourth birthday, having been organized at Silver Bay, July 18th, 1902.

The movers of this grand organization were stirred to action by the need of stimulating missionary spirit, zeal and consecration and further to establish permanently summer conferences and institutions at which teachers of Sunday schools and leaders in young people's work among the churches might be trained in mission study in both elementary and normal grade works and methods. The conferences are affording at this session unequalled advantages to over 600 delegates from different parts of New England and other states made up of pastors and teachers, missionaries and laymen.

This fourth annual gathering is the largest and most successful.
Rev. Silas P. Perry of Bristol is attending as representative of the Addison County Christian Endeavor Union, and Miss A. M. Raymond of Orwell as chairman County C. E. missionary committee. It is purposed by the county union to have Rev. Silas P. Perry visit churches of the county who are interested in sending him to these conferences for the mutual good of all these churches and societies.

It is a privilege in which all our churches may join and be benefited. The conferences are affording study classes in home and foreign work. Bible study of specific import and value. Institutes for pastors and Sunday school workers and young people's societies. It is a season of deep and systematic devotion and earnest application. A beautiful spot near the north of the Gem Lake of America. Already many bright young people have volunteered to go to foreign fields.

Yours,
SILAS P. PERRY.

New Departure.

After two months of remarkable sales, Mulford R. Burt, the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

Anyone suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of Mulford R. Burt's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr. Mulford R. Burt's special half price offer, this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

Because he ran an automobile in excess of the speed limit, E. Jewett July 26 was fined $1.00 and costs of $6.75. Jewett came to Burlington with a big machine which George E. Whitney had just bought. Jewett opened the machine up just after he passed the police office and being seen by the officer, was followed and arrested. He paid.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN.

Week Ending July 30.
The temperature during the week ranged somewhat lower than that of the preceding seven days. The mean temperature was from 1 to 6 degrees lower at the several stations, and the maxima and minima were also lower than during last week. At the majority of stations the maxima, as a rule, ranged between 74 and 80 degrees, and for about half the days of the week did not rise to 80 degrees. The highest temperature reported at most stations was 85 degrees and occurred during the last of the week. The lowest was generally about the 26th, and a number of observers in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, reported that it fell to between 46 and 50 degrees on that date.
The rainfall in northern Vermont for the week exceeded 50 per cent. of an inch.
